About this Course

Workplace inspections are a vital component of a company's Occupational Health and Safety (OH&S) program. Many Certifying Partners require those involved with conducting inspections to be properly trained for the task. This course provides what is needed for organizing and handling an effective inspection.

In this training module, we'll review the fundamentals used to help analyze unsafe workplace conditions and behaviours, verify the effective performance of existing workplace controls, and identify new hazards when they arise.

The average student will require 25 minutes to complete this training, and is awarded with a downloadable and printable certificate of training.
